

PRACTICE FOCUS

Nichole Priolo is a counsel in Offit Kurman's Family Law Practice Group. She represents clients in matters involving divorce, child custody and visitation, child support, alimony, and property and asset division. Ms. Priolo is reliable, thorough, and responsive to clients' needs. She recognizes the emotional challenges inherent in family disputes and believes the best approach is one which provides compassion and understanding. She also understands the financial challenges presented to clients in legal disputes and provides efficient and competent services.

Ms. Priolo was previously a paralegal and later an attorney at a boutique firm in Annapolis, Maryland which focused on family law matters. In addition to experience in family law, Ms. Priolo has represented clients in employment, business, construction, contract, and estate matters. Her versatile legal experience outside of family law provides her a well-rounded understanding of potential issues affecting clients.
