

PRACTICE FOCUS

Kyle Bartol is a Principal attorney in Offit Kurman’s Family Law practice group. A skilled litigator, he handles a full range of family law-related matters, including high net worth property distribution cases. Kyle is experienced in circuit court and juvenile family law court matters, representing clients in Virginia courts on matters involving property division, business valuations, spousal support, child support, support modification, divorce, custody, settlement agreements, premarital agreements, post-marital agreements, mediation and appeals.

At both the appellate and trial level, Kyle, who has practiced almost exclusively family law since 1998, participates in all facets of contested family law matters. Through negotiation, mediation and litigation, he has consistently achieved favorable results while minimizing anxiety for his clients.
