Rawan offers both in-person and video conference consultations, and her practice includes but is not limited to:

- Divorce/ Dissolution of marriage/ Annulment
- Alimony/Maintenance
- Equitable Distribution/ Property Distribution
- Dissipation of Marital Assets
- Custody/Parenting Time/Visitation
- International, Interstate and Domestic Custody Disputes
- Prenuptial Agreements
- Postnuptial Agreements
- Child support/college contribution
- Emancipation
- Cohabitation
- Retirement
- Mediation

Prior to Offit Kurman, she was a partner at a boutique matrimonial firm where her time was devoted exclusively to complex matrimonial law-related cases. Rawan served as a Judicial Law Clerk to the lead dissolution (divorce) judge, the Honorable James B. Convery, J.S.C. (retired), in one of New Jersey's highest volume counties, Essex County, from September 2007 through August 2008. She received her Juris Doctorate from Seton Hall University School of Law in 2007, where she interned at the Seton Hall Center for Social Justice, Family Law Clinic, having attended law school specifically to pursue the practice of Family Law.

She was admitted into the New Jersey State Bar and the United States District Court, District of New Jersey. She was also admitted to the New York State Bar. She is a member of the New Jersey State Bar Association, the New York State Bar Association, the Essex County Bar Association, the Essex County Barry I. Croland Family Law Inns of Court, and Bergen County Bar Association.

Rawan was also appointed by the New Jersey Supreme Court as a member of both the New Jersey Supreme Court Family Practice Committee (from 2013 to present) and the District Ethics Committee (served in District XIII from 2013 through 2019).

Rawan continues to volunteer her time by providing pro bono legal services to under-served litigants and is an active member of Volunteer Lawyers for Justice. She also volunteers her time as a panelist in Essex County in support of the Matrimonial Early Settlement Program.
